RADIO CONTROL

Clocks with radio control movements receive their signal from the world's most accurate clock, the U.S. Government's atomic clock in Colorado. The time is broadcasted 24-hours a day via a low frequency radio signal. Once you have your clock set to the right time zone you are done; the clock will do the rest.

Dial back to the turn of the century and you'll quickly realize why this oversized Orion wall clock is bursting with bounds of style. Inspired by midcentury designs yet given a modern twist, this starburst wall clock has been balanced for versatility. The rustically rich shade of natural walnut wood and the luxuriousness of golden brass metal hardware fuse together to yield a piece that is decoratively indicative of the craftsmanship for which these ancient times are revered. Although it is often displayed in homes with a medieval aesthetic, our radiantly large wall clock has a unique way of blending in with all kinds of home or office décor.

Calling all history buffs and romantics! The Nova wall clock gets its inspiration from the clean, natural wood tones and gold metallic from the turn of the century. Oversized at almost 31 inches in diameter, this is a great pick for hanging in your den, living room, or bedroom. At the center of the sunburst, there is a circular metallic gold frame displaying numbers against a silver face. The clock face is majestically surrounded by aged solid wooden rays. Pair it with geometric accent pieces and you will have a space that gives the impression of being created by a professional interior designer! The time is notified by sleek black metal hands, a perfect touch of contrast. This wall clock has an open face and no lens concept, thus retaining its midcentury modern theme in the true spirit.

Leather Strap for Hanging

Bursting with practical style and rustic charm, you'll love the way this mirror will complement your space. On the Farmhouse Circle, the leather strap attaches to a rustic metal frame ending in a charming buckle. We all have dead wall spaces in our houses. Instantly spruce up one such space in your home using this mirror. Spanning an impressive 29 inches in height including the strap, this is a trendy and chic accent piece for both young and old. This hanging wall mirror will be the perfect finishing touch to your home.

The Moon Phase wall mirror will bring a unique flair to your home, with its 9.5" diameter mirror being the central piece within the 19.5" diameter gold outer frame. The black marble-look accent adds a touch of class and sophistication to this lovely mirror.
