Built with a silent movement
and a sweep second hand.

RADIO CONTROL

Clocks with radio control movements receive their signal from the world's most accurate clock, the U.S. Government's atomic clock in Colorado. The time is broadcasted 24-hours a day via a low frequency radio signal. Once you have your clock set to the right time zone you are done; the clock will do the rest.

Black Metal Hands on an Open Face

Are you looking for a clock that is striking and unique in design? The Utopia from Infinity Instruments fits the bill with its eye-catching fusion of vintage and modern. This 30" indoor wall clock boasts a bold starburst design and is a great mix of wood and metal. The Utopia features raised numbers set against a brushed aluminum dial and open-face design for easy viewing. Quartz movement ensures accurate time keeping, and its keyhole hanging mechanism makes it easy to place in your living room, entertainment area or anywhere in the home.

Dial back to the turn of the century and you'll quickly realize why this oversized Orion wall clock is bursting with bounds of style. Inspired by midcentury designs yet given a modern twist, this starburst wall clock has been balanced for versatility. The rustically rich shade of natural walnut wood and the luxuriousness of golden brass metal hardware fuse together to yield a piece that is decoratively indicative of the craftsmanship for which these ancient times are revered. Although it is often displayed in homes with a medieval aesthetic, our radiantly large wall clock has a unique way of blending in with all kinds of home or office décor.

• MID-CENTURY MODERN •

Calling all history buffs and romantics! The Nova wall clock gets its inspiration from the clean, natural wood tones and gold metallic from the turn of the century. Oversized at almost 31 inches in diameter, this is a great pick for hanging in your den, living room, or bedroom. At the center of the sunburst, there is a circular metallic gold frame displaying numbers against a silver face. The clock face is majestically surrounded by aged solid wooden rays. Pair it with geometric accent pieces and you will have a space that gives the impression of being created by a professional interior designer! The time is notified by sleek black metal hands, a perfect touch of contrast. This wall clock has an open face and no lens concept, thus retaining its midcentury modern theme in the true spirit.

Whether you're waking up for work, school, or your daily morning walk, the Digital Alarm Clock won't let you down! Measuring 2.25" x 6.25", this stylish alarm clock features a matte black / white frame and its digital display not only shows the time (in either 12-hour or 24-hour format), but can also be programmed to rotate to show the date and the ambient temperature in either Celsius or Fahrenheit. This clock runs on three AAA batteries, but does require the USB to be plugged in at ALL TIMES in order to permanently display the time/date/temperature. When the clock is not plugged in, the time / date / temperature readings will disappear, requiring you to tap on the top of the clock in order to re-appear.
